

Program Overview: Bachelor of Arts, English English Literature Concentration

About This Major . . .

The English program offers a Bachelor of Arts in English with concentrations in Literature, Creative Writing, and Secondary Education. With a Literature concentration, you will gain breadth as you read widely in world, British, and American literatures, and you will gain depth as you engage contemporary literary theory and rhetoric. Opportunities abound as you hone your craft in poetry, fiction, and creative non-fiction workshops. If you are interested in teaching, you will first gain an expertise in literature and language, then you will focus on teaching as you design assignments, learn pedagogical theories, work closely with local middle and high school teachers, and complete your student teaching internship. By reading, interpreting, and evaluating complex literature, theories, and criticism, you will learn to think critically, having learned to weigh evidence, identify assumptions, evaluate persuasive appeals, and recognize faulty reasoning. Employers want smart, flexible, and creative employees, all hallmarks of a Colorado Mesa University graduate in English.

Four years of work culminates in a project that will make you proud. Literature and creative writing students complete a senior seminar that invites them to create a portfolio of work and craft a longer essay worthy of graduate school. Future teachers complete their internship in a local school. These final projects share a common invitation: demonstrate your expertise in a professional context.

All CM baccalaureate graduates are expected to demonstrate proficiency in critical thinking, communication fluency, quantitative fluency, and specialized knowledge/applied learning.

With an English degree in hand, you will be able to:

1. express and tailor your ideas, arguments, and views in a variety of ways to different audiences.
2. interpret stories, poems, plays, films, images, and more, and you will know how to use different kinds of evidence to persuade others.
3. lead discussions about a wide range of American and British literature.
4. use what you know about literature to write your own stories, poems, and plays.
5. research to find answers to questions and solutions to problems.
6. describe how the English language has changed over time and explain how different groups have altered the language to meet their needs.

Program Requirements

A student must follow CMU graduation requirements by completing 120 semester credit hours, including 40 credits of coursework at the 300+ level. See the “Undergraduate Graduation Requirements” in the catalog for additional graduation information. Students should work closely with a faculty advisor when selecting and scheduling courses prior to registration. In general, CMU’s programs of study are based on two curriculum groups:

1. Essential Learning

CMU’s Essential Learning program provides the foundation of skills and information that cuts across all fields of study and the support for advanced concepts that students will later encounter in their majors. Before moving into work at the 300+ level, students complete the Maverick Milestone and its co-requirement, Essential Speech. This pair of courses is a capstone experience where students integrate what they have learned from their foundation courses by making connections among diverse areas of knowledge. The capstone is also an opportunity for students to work with disparate ideas, a critical skill expected of all CMU graduates that will aid them in solving the complex and unscripted problems they will encounter in their personal, professional, and civic lives.
