MSC business students host Children's Harvest Fest

Grand Junction – Look for something fun for your children to do on Halloween? The Mesa State College Future Business Leaders of America Phi Beta Lambda (PBL) is hosting a Children's Harvest Festival to be held on Halloween from 4:00 to 9:00 PM. Admission is $2 a head at the door.

Come for games, crafts, and a costume contest with prizes from our friends at Chuck E. Cheese. The event will also include the Society of Physics Students fourth annual Smashing Pumpkin event, which will take place at 5:00 pm. Pumpkins that have been frozen with liquid nitrogen will be dropped off the new classroom building, 1400 Houston Ave., at Elm and Houston avenues. Bring the whole family for a night of fun! All the activities will be at that location.

The event is a fundraiser for PBL, a non-profit business club that helps students from all disciplines achieve their goals.
