Fifth Annual Entrepreneurship Day features Ben Stein

Grand Junction – The fifth annual Entrepreneurship Day, hosted by the Entrepreneurial Business Institute at Mesa State College, will be held on Wednesday, April 14, and will feature economist, FORTUNE columnist, humorist, TV and movie actor, author, lawyer and university teacher Ben Stein as the keynote speaker.

Stein’s topic will be, “What Does It All Mean for You? The Economic Meltdown: How It Happened and How You Can Survive It and Thrive.”

Entrepreneurship Day is a collaborative effort between the Mesa State College Entrepreneurial Business Institute and businesses in the Grand Junction area to promote education about running a business while providing networking opportunities.

Events will run from 8:00 am to 5:00 pm. and are open to the public. Except for the luncheon with Stein, the events are free. Tickets that include lunch and floor seating are $50. General admission seating is $10 and will be sold only at the door on a first-come, first-served basis.

All events except the luncheon are in the new classroom building, 1400 Houston Ave. The luncheon will be in Brownson Arena in the new Maverick Center (formerly Saunders Fieldhouse) at 12th Street and Orchard Avenue.

For more information or to purchase tickets to the luncheon, go to www.mesastate.edu/eday. Tickets may also be purchased at the Mesa State College Foundation building, 1450 N. 12th Street or by calling 970.248.1902.

NOTE: Media requests to interview Ben Stein should be made to William Lee at 703.684.0555.
