First Mesa State College Student Showcase

Grand Junction – The community is invited to come see what Mesa State College students are learning at the first Mesa State College Student Showcase on Wednesday, April 28th from 3 - 5 p.m. There are 230 undergraduates from Mesa State and Western Colorado Community College who are presenting 95 projects. The Student Showcase will highlight various types of student projects that range from research on our region's geology to art exhibits to a cooking demonstration by our culinary students.

Student projects are assigned to one of seven categories and can take the form of a demonstration, exhibit, oral presentation, performance, or poster. They are being presented in one of five venues on the south end of the campus. A listing, by program category, of all participating students along with the place and approximate time for their presentation may be found at <http://www.mesastate.edu/showcase/>.

The best project in each of the Showcase's 13 tracks will be announced in the Recital Hall of the Moss Performing Arts Center at 5:30.
