ANNOUNCEMENT OF POSITION VACANCY
Department of Computer Science, Mathematics and Statistics
Instructor of Statistics/Mathematics

The Department of Computer Science, Mathematics and Statistics at Colorado Mesa University has two Instructor faculty positions available starting in August, 2016.

RESPONSIBILITIES
Teaching responsibilities will consist of lower-level undergraduate statistics and mathematics courses such as College Math, College Algebra, PreCalculus, Probability and Statistics, Statistics for Social and Behavioral Sciences and Introduction to Business Analysis. The standard teaching load is 12 credit hours per semester. The successful candidate may also be expected to serve in line with our mission of fostering a student-centered learning environment.

EDUCATION AND EXPERIENCE
The preferred candidate will have an earned Master’s degree in Statistics or Mathematics from a regionally accredited institution. Candidates with Master’s degrees in related fields with significant coursework in statistics and mathematics or documented industry experience using statistics and mathematics will also be considered. Applicants with good communication skills and a record of high quality teaching in statistics and/or mathematics will be given preference.

Colorado Mesa University is particularly interested in candidates who have experience working with students from diverse backgrounds and who have a demonstrated commitment to improving the levels of access and success for underrepresented students within higher education.
