Presenting New Work Made during the Iron.Stone Symposium at the Pedvale Open- Air Museum in Sablie, Latvia

By Araan Schmidt MFA,
Assistant Professor of Art

Over the course of a five week symposium Araan and a team of students from Colorado Mesa University created a site specific, permanent, installation at the Pedvale Open Air Museum in Sablie, Latvia. The work was made with eight other artists and artist teams from around the world in the Iron.Stone symposium, a venue for the creation of new iron and stone centric work. Araan's presentation will take you through, from start to finish, the laborious processes it took to achieve this monumental work of art.

Please come with your lunch and bring your colleagues.

(Students are welcome to join in too!)
