

From Idea to Publication: Course Embedded Authentic Research Experiences

Louis S. Nadelson, PhD

Wednesday, April 26 from Noon-12:50 p.m.

Boettcher Room (Tomlinson Library)

Dr. Nadelson will present his experience, as recently detailed in a published book chapter (Nadelson, 2016), about how to embed authentic research experience into courses. He has successfully published with over 40 students, embedding the research experiences into 9 different courses, resulting in 10 publications. In his presentation, Nadelson will discuss his process, the ideal courses for the research activities, the roles of the authors, and the steps for successful publication.

Nadelson, L.S. (2016). From idea to publication: Course embedded authentic research experiences. In M.C. Smith & N. DeFrates-Densch (Eds.), Challenges and innovations in educational psychology teaching and learning (pp. 397-410). Charlotte, NC: Information Age Publishing.