Baccalaureate Level Students will be able to:

B1 Write programs in multiple programming languages, and be able to translate concepts between languages.

B2 Develop the technical specification, and develop, design and test a software solution for a given problem.

B3 Analyze and measure competing hardware and software components and defend a choice for a given situation.

B4 Independently learn and use new technologies

B5 Work in teams to solve large scale problems