

Using Discover for Self-Registration Courses

The Discover tool in D2L replaces the Self-Registration tool. We have a variety of self-registration courses available for students and instructors. You will be able to view your options based on your role. Some are refresher courses for our introduction to D2L courses, and others are resources.

Introduction Courses

If you're new to using D2L for online courses or just need a refresher, check out our Introduction Courses. These self-serve courses allow you to experience D2L tools in action and are available 24/7, even if the Help Desk or Distance Ed staff are out of the office.

D2L Refresher courses provide hands-on experience, enabling you to practice using tools such as Assignments, Discussions, and Quizzes. A student version and a faculty version are available. (If you've previously taken or taught a hybrid or online course at CMU, you already completed a similar course, but you are still welcome to self-enroll in a refresher.)

Access Discover to Enroll in a Course
