Scholarship Consideration

- New CU-CMU students must complete the CU-Boulder Engineering Merit Scholarship Application for CU-CMU Partner Students annually to be considered for scholarships (if you were admitted to the program by 4/15/14, you should have received an email with the application link).

Review and Revision of Scholarship Awarding Criteria

- All undergraduate scholarships are overseen by the College's Undergraduate Scholarship Committee
- As with the Boulder campus scholarships, the Committee regularly reviews scholarship award levels for the CU/CMU Partnership Program
 - Based on:
 - Funding availability
 - Students' GPAs

Proposed 2014-2015 Academic Year Award Levels - Juniors

- Junior Year, 2014-2015
 - Students who completed the scholarship application may receive scholarships ranging from $750-$1,750 in the junior year depending on their CMU cumulative GPA.
 - $1,750 if CMU GPA is 4.000
 - $1,500 if CMU GPA is 3.900 – 3.999
 - $1,250 if CMU GPA is 3.800 – 3.899
 - $1,000 if CMU GPA is 3.700 – 3.799
 - $750 if CMU GPA is 3.600 – 3.699
 - These award levels are subject to revision

2015-2016 Academic Year Awarding- Seniors

- Senior Year, 2015-2016
 - Students who apply by March 1 of the junior year may be awarded a scholarship in the senior year in a manner consistent with CU-Boulder engineering students
 - See the Engineering Undergraduate Scholarships page for more information
