

Bruce Smith

Principal Hydrogeologist, Western Water & Land, Inc.

Bruce is a Principal Hydrogeologist and co-owner of Western Water & Land, Inc., an environmental consulting firm emphasizing hydrological services. He has 30 years of experience in the environmental industry as a professional hydrologist. His experience encompasses a broad range of environmental hydrological applications and investigations including groundwater and surface water studies, watershed protection, water supply, river restoration, water chemistry, passive water treatment, and land reclamation for clients in both private industry and government agencies. He has a B.S. in Geology from Colorado State University and M.S. in Hydrology from the University of Arizona.