

Gigi Richard

Four Corners Water Resources Center, Fort Lewis College

Dr. Gigi Richard is the Director of the Four Corners Water Resources Center and Instructor of Geosciences at Fort Lewis College in Durango, CO. She moved to Durango in 2018 after a 16-year career as Professor of Geology at Colorado Mesa University in Grand Junction, where she also co-founded and co-directed the Ruth Powell Hutchins Water Center. Gigi is a civil engineer (BS from MIT and MS and PhD from CSU) who has spent her career teaching about and studying surface water, including research projects on human impacts on river systems in the western US and New Zealand, and more recently a collaborative study of snowmelt from low-elevation snowpack.
