

Gigi Richard

Fort Lewis College

Dr. Gigi Richard is currently a Visiting Instructor in Geosciences at Fort Lewis College. She moved to Durango, CO in 2018 after a 16-year career as Professor of Geology at Colorado Mesa University in Grand Junction, where she also co-founded and co-directed of the Hutchins Water Center. Gigi is a civil engineer (BS from MIT and MS and Ph.D. from CSU) who has spent her career teaching about and studying surface water, including research projects on human impacts on river systems in the western US and New Zealand, and more recently a collaborative study of snowmelt from low-elevation snowpack in Colorado.