

Scott Williamson – Education and Outreach Coordinator, Water Education Colorado

scott@wateredco.org

Scott supports the education and outreach programs of Water Education Colorado, including leading the Water Educator Network, Project WET curriculum and trainings, and water-themed tours and events. He is currently supporting the finalization of the Statewide Water Education Action Plan. Scott earned a Master of Urban Planning degree from the University of Washington. He leans on his experience from the Puget Sound region, where he supported regional coordination of local salmon and ecosystem recovery plans in watersheds where summer stream flows are a concern for water providers.