

Sue Bellagamba

Canyonlands Regional Director

The Nature Conservancy in Utah

For more than 25 years, Sue Bellagamba has been working with the Conservancy to protect the lands and waters of southeastern Utah. Today, Sue leads the Conservancy's projects in this region as the Canyonlands Regional Director. She received her Bachelor of Science degree from the College of Natural Resources at Colorado State University in 1979. Shortly after graduating, she arrived in Moab, Utah, to work for the Bureau of Land Management as a Westwater River Ranger, initiating her passion for the rivers and lands on the Colorado Plateau. Currently she is working with water users in Emery and Carbon counties Utah to find local, water wise solutions to enhance water security for all.
