

Hannah Holm

Director, Hutchins Water Center at Colorado Mesa University

Hannah Holm is the Director and co-founder of the Hutchins Water Center at Colorado Mesa University, which promotes research, education and dialogue to address the water challenges facing the Upper Colorado River Basin. The Hutchins Water Center was established in 2011.

Hannah previously facilitated the Grand Valley and Lower Gunnison Wise Water Use Council, advocated for stronger drinking water protections with Western Colorado Congress, and served on her local watershed group board in Pennsylvania. Earlier in her career, Hannah worked for North Carolina General Assembly, where she staffed committees on the Environment, Natural Resources, Sustainable Agriculture and Smart Growth.

Hannah has a joint Master's degree in Community & Regional Planning and Latin American Studies from the University of Texas at Austin and a Bachelor's degree in Anthropology from Macalester College in St. Paul, MN.
