

Roger Hansen

Roger has a doctorate in Water Resources and Hydrology from USU. He has 35 years of experience with the Bureau of Reclamation working in water resource planning and project management. His experience spans the globe, but is mainly in Utah. He specializes in real-time monitoring and control (automation) systems for smaller rural irrigation projects. He has been retired for five years.