

Steve Anderson

Steve Anderson is a graduate of Colorado State University with a degree in Civil Engineering. After graduation he worked for a large construction and mining company in the western US and Canada. Steve returned to the family farm in the early 1990's to farm with his father. He is a fourth-generation farmer in the Uncompahgre Valley, third-generation director of the Uncompahgre Valley Water Users Association, and second-generation manager of Uncompahgre Valley Water Users Association. Steve also served as the Gunnison Basin Director on the Colorado Water Conservation Board.